

UOS MUSIC PRESENTS

JOHN IRELAND PRIZE

MONDAY 21 MARCH 2022

Marking the Sixtieth Anniversary of John Ireland's death on June 12th 1962

Judges: Professor Vincent Emery, David Wordsworth, Kevin Appleby

Prizes of £500, £300 and £200

Louis Cook piano

Le Catoroc from Sarnia

Oliver Davis accompanied by Duncan Honeybourne

Sea Fever, If there were dreams to sell, The Bells of San Marie, Love is a sickness full of woes

Yifang Xu piano

The Towing-path and February's Child

Alicia Holland-Pillado accompanied by Duncan Honeybourne

Three Songs (Arthur Symons, 1918–19): The Adoration, The Rat, Rest

Peter Whalley guitar

Sea Fever and The Bells of San Marie

Adam Greenhow accompanied by Duncan Honeybourne

Sea Fever, The Trellis, and I have Twelve Oxen (Duncan Honeybourne)

Jimmy Alderson piano
Month's Mood and Reaper's Dance

Amelia Kelly-Slogrove accompanied by Amanda Slogrove
I have twelve oxen, Ex Ore Innocentium and The Bells of San Marie

The Department of Music at the University of Southampton is grateful for the generosity of Professor Emery and the John Ireland Trust.

And for your diary on the actual anniversary of Ireland's death:

Music & Archaeology – an afternoon of discovery

Turner Sims, Sunday June 12th 2022 at 3pm

Join host David Owen Norris along with experts and special guests for an afternoon of musical and archaeological discoveries. David Owen Norris & Duncan Honeybourne perform Ireland's The Forgotten Rite and Mai Dun, both inspired by prehistory. Professor Tim Champion and Laura Cox speak about ancient Wessex.

Standard £10, Turner Sims Friends £9, Students and under 18s £5

Book your tickets at www.turnersims.co.uk

info@turnersims.co.uk

turnersims.co.uk

Box Office
023 8059 5151

Tag us @turnersims in your photos!

Media Partner

GRAMOPHONE

Supported using public funding by
ARTS COUNCIL ENGLAND

Turner Sims is provided by University of Southampton and gratefully acknowledges the support of Arts Council England

UNIVERSITY OF
Southampton